

WATER TOWER DICE TOWER

Instructions for the Water Tower Dice Tower

You will need the following:
 110# Card Stock
 Scissors                      Glue
 Straight Edge    Hobby Knife
 Black Permanent Marker

Score (trace with a hobby knife or scissors) the horizontal lines on the tank.

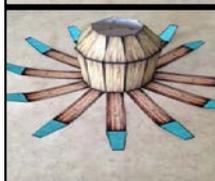

Score the vertical lines on the tank. Make sure to score along the tabs. In the small tabs, score along the LONG edges.

Carefully cut out the tank. Cut the "inside" of the tank into "fingers" with the water as the tips.

Using a marker edge the fold lines with a black marker. Glue the tabs on the tank and the cone.

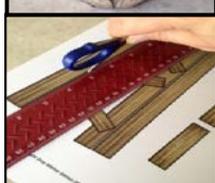

Glue the "fingers" one by one into the inside of the tank. This adds durability, and gives it a finished look.

There will be a small portion of the water pieces sticking through the tank. Trim these and edge them with a marker.

The tank is complete. Set the tank aside to dry completely.

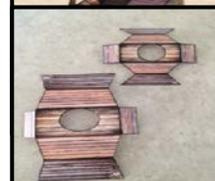

To assemble the tower, score on the white spaces between the uprights. Carefully cut out the tower, and edge them.

Fold the uprights and glue them. Cut out the boards out and glue them in place. NOTE: These are wide on purpose. Trim as needed.

Fold the uprights at a 45 degree angle. Fold the top ends (about 1/2 inch; 13mm) so the tank can rest on it.

Score, cut out and edge the two tumblers. Glue the tank to the uprights once they are dry. Leave two spaces between the towers.

Fold the support pieces over and glue them. These will act form the tumblers. The tabs go on the outside of the tower.

Feed the tumblers into the tower. The HOLES go to the LOWEST part of the tower. The tabs glue to the outside of the braces.

Score, cut out and edge the landing. Fold the supports and glue them. Fold the support under the landing and glue it in place.

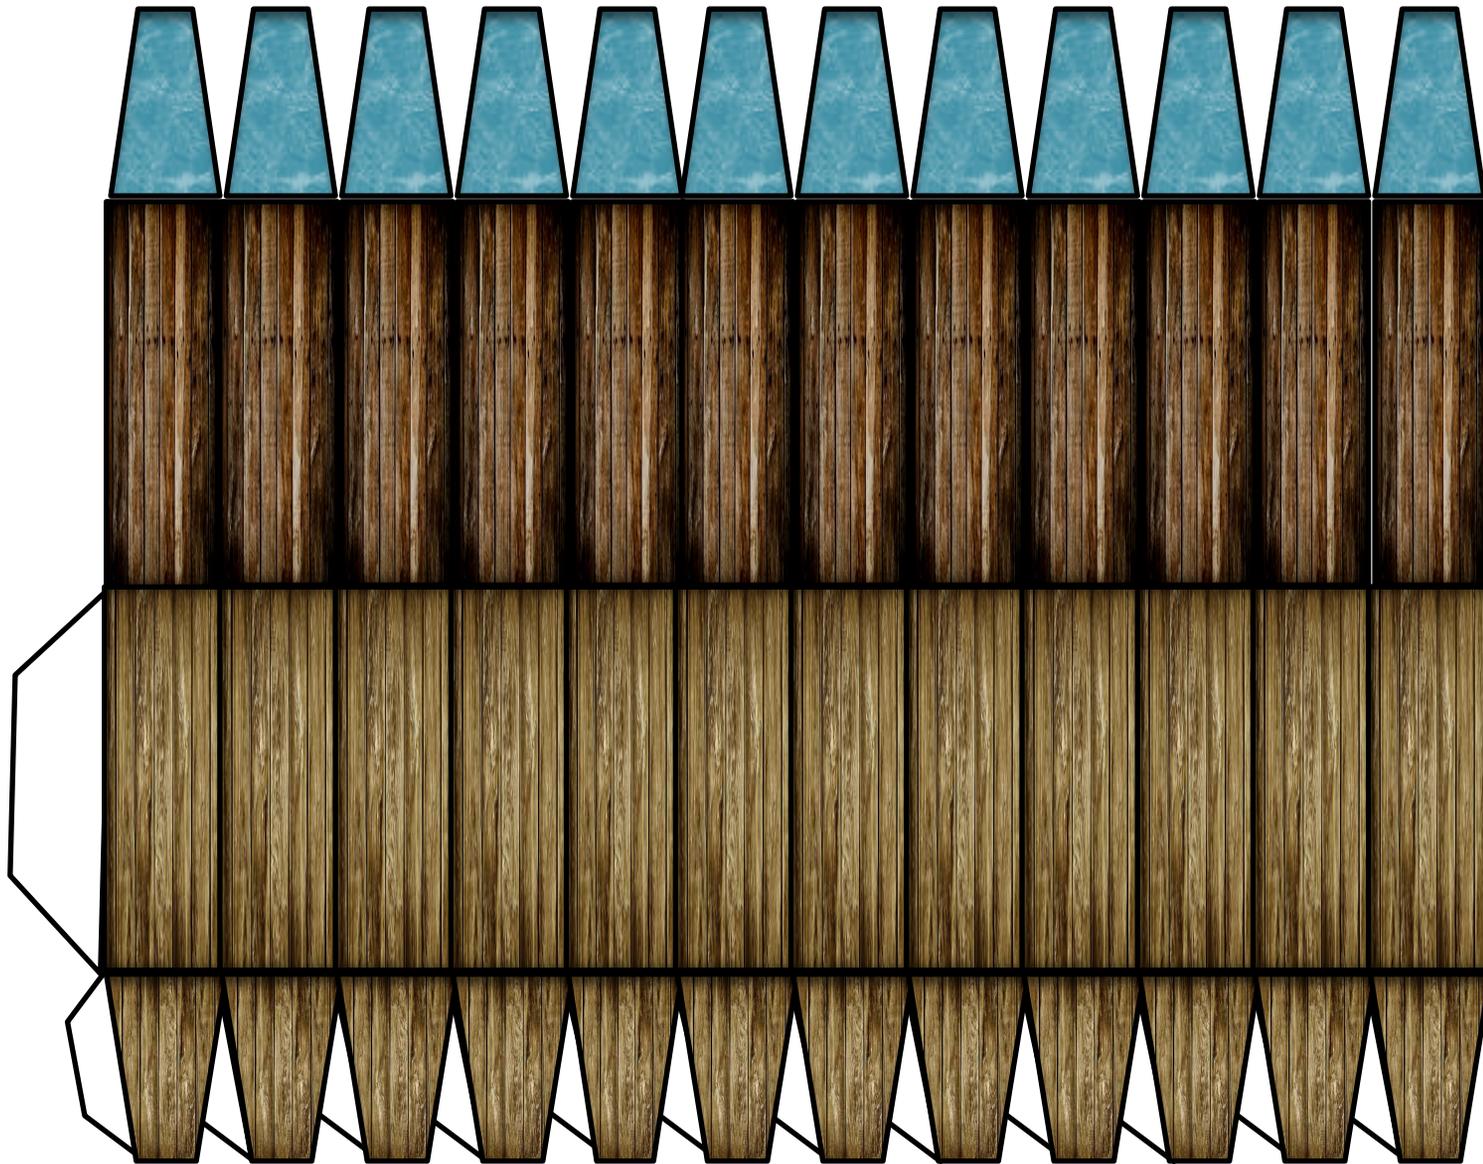

Just as you glued the tumblers in place, glue the landing in place, as well. The lower tabs (under the bottom of the landing) can be glued to the inside of the uprights.

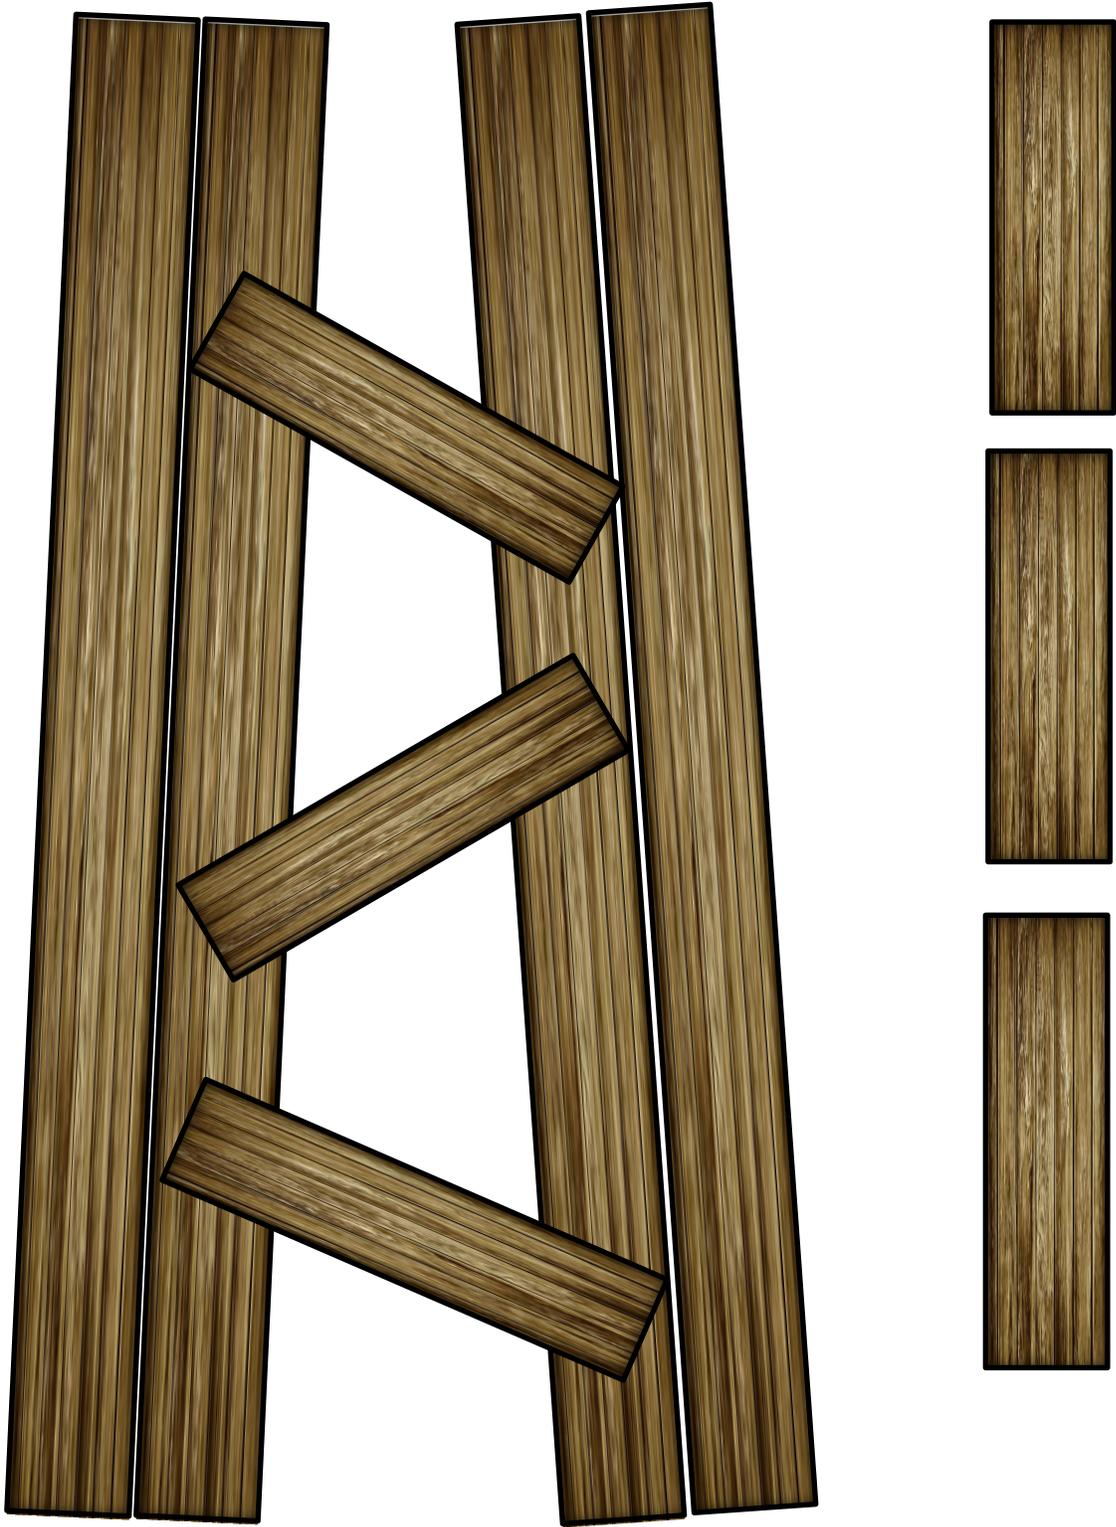

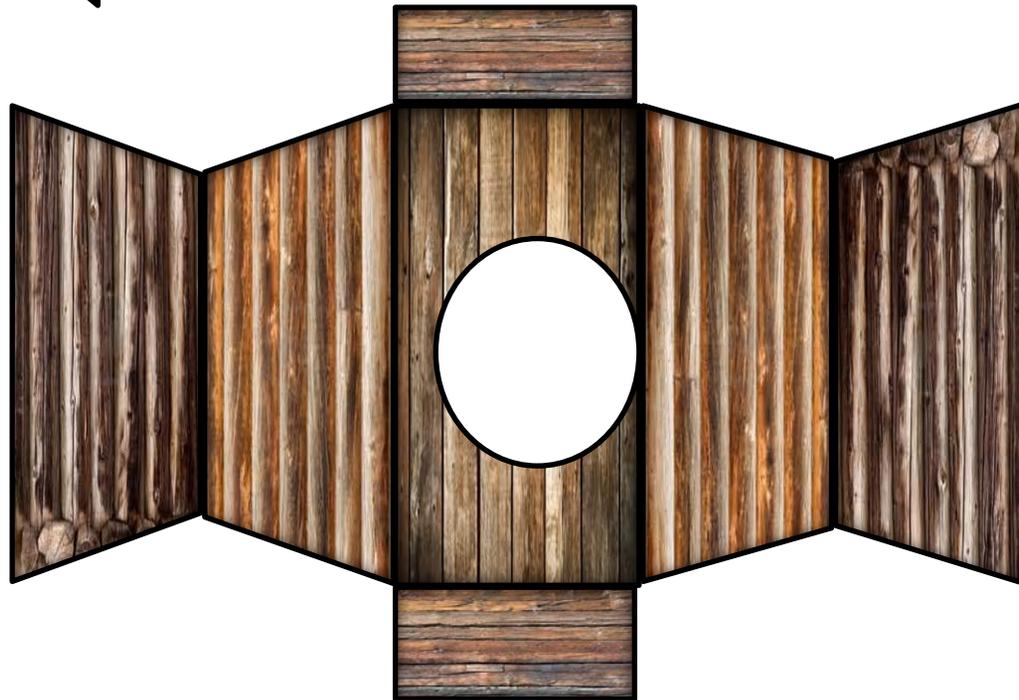

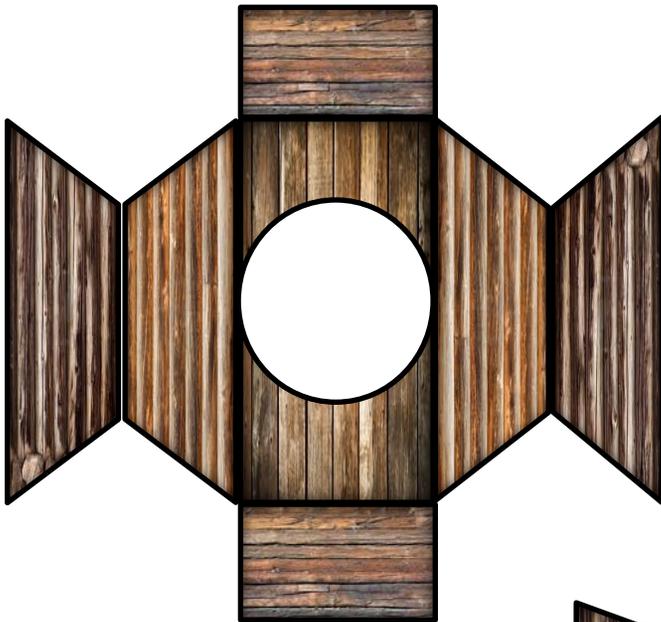

Score, cut and fold the collection trough. The triangles go into the side rails, and the large tab is glued into the dice tower. Post pictures so your friends can be envious.
